TIGER Grant Announcements

This morning US DOT announced the recipients of the ARRA stimulus bill TIGER discretionary grant program. Attached is a list of awardees listed by state including a brief project description. A total of 61 projects were selected. Additional analysis will be sent out later today.

Today is the one-year anniversary of President Obama's signing the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) economic stimulus bill. The bill included $1.5B for a new discretionary grant program, the "Transportation Investment Generating Economic Recovery" (TIGER) program. The focus of this program is on projects that have a significant impact on preserving/creating near-term jobs (particularly in economically distressed areas) and provide measurable long-term transportation and economic benefits. Highway, transit, passenger and freight rail, intermodal, and port projects were eligible to apply. The TIGER grants are the last of the US DOT ARRA discretionary grants to be released.

The program was wildly oversubscribed. Over 1380 projects worth $56.5B from all 50 states were submitted. Of the projects submitted, 57% were highway projects, 16% transit, 9% rail, 7% port and 11% "other". The states with the largest number of project requests were Texas (125), California (117), Florida (115), New York (76), Illinois (49) and Washington state (49). The states with the largest dollar amount requested were Texas ($5.1B), Florida ($4.2B), California ($3.2B), New York ($2.9B), Illinois ($2.3B) and Ohio ($2.3B).

More on TIGER Grant Announcements

Below is the US DOT press release on the TIGER grant announcements.

Here is a link to a 58-page review of the project winners with a description of each project awarded funding.

Although all 50 states and several territories submitted applications, 10 states did not receive any grants - CT, DE, FL, GA, ID, KS, NE, ND, NH, and UT, nor did Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The largest amount - $105M went to the Crescent Corridor Intermodal Freight Rail Project in Tennessee and Alabama. The smallest amount - $1.8M went to Appalachian Regional Short-line upgrades. Sixty percent of the funds went to economically distressed areas.

A number of streetcar projects were selected – Tucson, New Orleans, Portland and Dallas, as well as several BRT projects. Five projects received funding in the form of leverage for a TIFIA loan in Arkansas, Missouri, Texas and North and South Carolina. There were several bike and pedestrian paths selected. Also funded were numerous freight rail projects, bridge replacements, highway corridor improvements, as well as port projects in Mississippi and Maine.

This will consolidate scattered bus stops at a heavily used bus transfer point into one facility. The priority bus transit corridors will significantly improve the performance of existing infrastructure and will provide more efficient and timely access to economically distressed populations, connecting them to job centers throughout the region. The project increases transportation choices and makes riding transit more appealing. Consolidating bus stops at the new Takoma/Langley Transit Center will eliminate the need for dangerous and time-consuming transfers. TIGER funds will provide new bus bays, pedestrian walkways, a full canopy, restrooms, lighting and bus information. The transit center will be a safe, attractive, comfortable and efficient facility for passengers and bus transfer activities in a largely low-income, transit-dependent area.	Mark Warner, James Webb, Frank Wolf, James Moran, Gerry Connolly,	DD
